Give the boys first chance at Long Distance

It means a lot for a boy in the service to talk to his friends and family back home. Usually the best time he has to do that is in the evening.

How about giving him a break by not using Long Distance from 7 to 10 P.M. unless it is absolutely necessary?

Nelson Wins WAVE's Nod In Contest

Charles Nelson, manager of the Redwood City J. C. Penney Co. store Wednesday was a first-round winner in the search for the best dressed man in the city where "climate is best by government test."

At a meeting presided over by E. W. Butler, chamber of commerce manager, Nelson was selected from half a hundred spring-garbed Kiwanians at noon by Ensign Jane Wilson, WAVE recruiting officer.

As the competition at the Kiwanis Club meeting narrowed down to half a dozen business men, Nelson won by acclaim when the ensign asked for applause for her various selections for the title. Winners from other service clubs and civic organizations are expected to compete with Nelson in the finals.

Nelson's garb was characterized as a compromise between the garrish and the dignified in summer wear. The winner wore a sports coat, brown slacks and shoes, and a tie that splurged firmly and belligerently over a white shirt.

Butler, wearing a tie from the collection of San Francisco's Mayor Roger Lapham, did not compete.

"I wear no man's tie," declared Nelson.

Butler presided at the club meeting which featured an address by Robert E. Saxe, San Francisco post office inspector, on gardening.

Spring burst upon Redwood City today in a veritable explosion of masculine raiment. Wednesday saw the opening of a display which will culminate in the choice of the man who, sartorially speaking, is best equipped to represent Redwood City and emphasize its climate, "best by government test."

The idea originated with E. W. Butler, chamber of commerce manager, who felt the sober garb of Redwood City people did not reflect the climate and reputation of the city. It caught on, gathered momentum, and the results on view here have assertedly sent the feminine half of the town scurrying for dark glasses.

Butler wore a cravat sent to him by Roger Lapham, mayor of San Francisco, a self-acclaimed tie expert. Next, Butler says, he will appear in the tie sent by "Joe Caboose," of which he says, "I thought had seen everything in the way of wild ties, but this tops them all. Reluctantly, to save face, I'll accept the challenge and wear the tie—a pyrotechnic display contributed by Wrex Cruse, noted from here to there for wild ties. I'll need a police escort and I'll give the fire department a preview to forestall false alarms."

Kenneth Johns, Tribune carrier, presented Butler with the tie nominated the "loudest tie in town," in the Pittsburgh, Pa., spring opening. An impressionistic rayon number hand-painted in alarming colors, its loops and curves and spirals might earn for it the title, "Lady Descending the Bannister."

Sequoia Teacher Leaves Large Estate

Miss Marjorie E. Landers, home economics teacher at Sequoia High School for 15 years prior to her death Mar. 3 in a Palo Alto Hospital after a three weeks' illness, left an estate valued in excess of $10,000, it was revealed here with the filing of her will for probate.

Miss Landers, in an olographic will dated Mar. 28, 1941, left her entire estate, consisting of real and personal property, to her sister, Virginia Landers Minogue of Mendota.

Miss Landers stated in her 62-word will that "my mother is already provided for by life insurance, and I am sure Virginia will take care of her. . . ." Her mother lives at 224 Hudson St.

R.C. Contractor Begins Construction

Peter Sorensen, Redwood City confractor, has started work on a $345,000 contract for the City and County of San Francisco, he announced. The contract calls for construction of concrete-lined tunnels from San Andreas Lake, westernmost of the Spring Valley lakes which form the main reservoir for San Francisco's water supply system.

Sorensen said the tunnels were the first unit of a new supply line to San Francisco.

He anticipated that the contract would require 12 months for completion.

Jack Broback On Leave of Absence

Jack W. Broback, assistant to E. R. Lovett, manager of the Peninsula Newspapers Inc., has been given leave of absence for a war job. He is now assistant division welfare and morale officer for Pan-American World Airways, which is engaged in naval air transport service.

Pan-American expects to move within a few months from Treasure Island to Mills Field, where it will have an even larger hanger.

Peterson To Probe Report Amnesia Victim Neglected

An amnesia victim who has been identified as Charles J. Hill, 47, of Glendale was reported to be in a "fair" condition today at Community Hospital where he was taken shortly before midnight Tuesday by the California Highway Patrol after he was found wandering in a dazed condition on Bayshore Hwy. at Burlingame.

Meanwhile, County Executive Frederick Peterson declared upon receiving a report that the man did not receive immediate medical attention upon arrival at the county hospital that he would investigate the matter.

Patrolman Frank Chevalier, who found Hill wandering along Bayshore Hwy. near the Scale House at Burlingame at 11:40 p.m., reported that he took the dazed victim to Community Hospital.

A nurse, who was identified today by Dr. H. W. S. Hayes, superintendent at the hospital, as Mrs. Rosalie Green, said that "he is a very sick man," Chevalier reported. "She told me to wait for Dr. (Nelson) Johnson, who was in the hospital on call. The doctor did not see this sick man, but told the nurse to put him in a padded cell which the nurse did without any medical treatmen."

Dr. Hayes said this afternoon that he is looking into the circumstances.

The "padded cell" to which Chevalier referred was a psychiatric ward on the third floor which has windows that do not open and which is sound proof, Dr. Hayes explained.

Community Hospital aides said that Hill was well dressed. He was identified by papers found in his wallet.

Dr. Hayes reported this afternoon that Hill's case history shows that Hill received a skull fracture 25 years ago and that he has had previous amnesia attacks.

Dr. Hayes said he learned that Hill had left his home in Glendale for Bakersfield where he got a job which was "too heavy" for him. He then went to San Francisco last Friday to look for a job. Dr. Hayes said that Hill has no recollection of anything since that time.

Hill was unable to tell Patrolman Chevalier his name or anything about his experiences.

COUNCIL: Questions Arise On Temporary Permits

Two questions which may take a spotlight in future meetings, flared momentarily Monday in an otherwise uneventful meeting of the city council.

The questions as they arose in the question of the permit of the "Redwood Diner" at 729 El Camino Real were:

What is meant by a temporary permit?

Does the city have the right to revoke a temporary license?

Ed Scott represented J. Blackwood, owner of the diner, at the meeting last night and asked for elucidation on a letter received from the city planning commission calling Blackwood's attention to the fact that his establishment was considered "unsightly" and that the council had the power to revoke the temporary permit at any time.

It was pointed out by City Atty. Paul McCarhy that a temporary permit had been issued for the diner in 1934 and that this permit was revocable at any time.

Scott argued that the diner met all the health and fire safety requirements but the latter was questioned by Building Insp. L. M. Duncan.

A motion that the question of the structure be turned back to the planning commission for further study passed by a 3-2 vote with Councilmen George W. McNulty and W. W. Hilton voting against the motion. Councilmen Anderson and Fletcher were absent last night.

When the motion had been passed, Scott then requested that the records show that he and Blackwell would base any future action on the belief the city does not have the power to revoke the permit.

The request for funds from the Y.M.C.A. was placed on the agenda for the next meeting without further discussion.

Councilman Armstrong introduced a resolution for adoption of the new zoning Ordinance 460 after City Atty. McCarthy had stated that the planning committee had revised the wording at a meeting before representatives of the property owners involved.

The council passed a correction of the minutes of the Feb. 7 meeting to read that a resolution rather than a motion had been used in accepting the option to purchase the Frank Goetz property which is part of the new recreational site. It was necessary that such a resolution be inserted so that the title company may record the contract.

The annual weed abatement proceedings were introduced and passed upon by the council. The proceedings direct property owners to appear four weeks hence with any objections to requirement of removal of weeds on their property.

City Manager Robert Mead stated that the "cutting and burning" methods generally employed last year will again be used this year to dispose of obnoxious weeds.

The question of location of used car lots was dropped from the agenda without action at the motion of Councilman Britschgi who expressed regret that action by the industrial committee had been lacking.

At the recommendation of City Mgr. Mead, action was deferred on discussion of one-hour parking on commercial way. Mead expressed belief that the problem was being worked out satisfactorily without action by the city.

Action on abatement proceedings on Vic Michel's blacksmith shop and the Carli property on Manzanita St. were put on the agenda for the next meeting.

Captain William Gillsen of the California State Guard unit appeared to request suggestions from the council for a place to store equipment. City Manager Mead expressed willingness to help in finding a suitable location and set an appointment to go out with Gillsen to search for such a place.

The council authorized the expenditure of $55 by the Redwood City and San Carlos Real Estate Assn. for their annual advertisement on the Real Estate Magazine.

A check from the Metal and Thermit Corp. for $25.98 covering the can pickup for February was accepted.

Louis Del Ben appeared before the council to ask why he had to tear down a chicken house he had built on a vacant lot opposite his home on Hopkins St. City Attorney McCarthy explained that he had interpreted two ordinances in regard to the keeping of chickens within the city, to make it unlawful to keep chickens in excess of 20 or to keep these chickens on any other location other than the property on which the owner's house was located.

Del Ben agreed to tear down the house and was given two weeks in which to do so.

The city accepted a $1 a year lease from Southern Pacific on parking space on the east side of Perry St. at the corner of Brewster.

Dance permits were approved to Court Madrone 158 for Mar. 25 and Apr. 1; Howard Frederic, Mar. 22, 29; Order of Rainbow for Girls, Mar. 25 and Women of the Moose, Mar. 24, 31.

A letter of appreciation was received from Mrs. Minnie E. Kincaid.

Upon the motion of Councilman Hilton, the meeting was adjourned in honor of Staff Sgt. Bernard Kniveton who gave his life in South Pacific action.

Businessmen Show Discourtesy Charges Adrien Falk in Talk

"Unrationed courtesy" as an immediate must, even for harassed grocers, was recommended to retail grocers by Adrien Falk, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and vice president and business manager of the S&W Fine Foods Inc.

"There never was a time when more bruskness and discourtesy was shown by businessmen to the public than now," Falk told members of the California Retail Grocers & Merchants Assn. at a meeting at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco this week.

A flood of surplus stocks from government supplies, impossibility of free trade if our standard of living is to be maintained and the grave possibility of an orgy of price cutting were submitted by Falk as major postwar considerations.

Falk was the speaker at the first monthly luncheon meeting of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, Feb. 29, when he discussed postwar planning in the Bay Area.

When Nazis announced an air raid caused "little damage," British and American planes scattered thousands of tiny aerial photographs over the Reich showing the actual damage wrought.

Peterson in 'Second Step'; Dr. Gans Secures Counsel

County Executive Frederick Peterson has taken the second step in the removal of Dr. Charles C. Gans as director of the county health and welfare department with a written notice to Dr. Gans that his services no longer would be required after 15 days from today. Peterson's letter read:

"Effective 15 days from date of this letter, your services as director of the Dept. of Public Health and Welfare of San Mateo County will not be required.

"The reasons for dismissal are inefficiency and insubordination.

"Should you feel this dismissal is not justified, you will request the civil service commission for a hearing of your case."

Peterson took the first step in his move to dismiss Dr. Gans Friday afternoon when he filed a notice with the civil service commission's office that he planned to notify Dr. Gans of his dismissal. Peterson called Dr. Gans to his office Friday morning and asked that he resign, which Dr. Gans refused to do.

Dr. Gans had no statement to make today other than that he has engaged counsel and that the case is now in the counsel's hands. He declined to give the name of the counsel.

A civil service commission rule adopted Jan. 19 of this year stipulates that any department head or the appointive power who seeks to dismiss an employe must first file a notice with the commission's office stating the grounds for dismissal and then present a written notice of dismissal to the employe with reasons for the dismissal.

These two steps now have been taken by Peterson, leaving the next steps up to Dr. Gans.

If Dr. Gans desires a commission hearing on the case, he must file his request with the commission within 14 days, the rule stipulates. The commission then must within 30 days from the date of filing of the appeal hold a hearing, the rule specifies.

The findings and decisions of the commission shall be final, the rules and regulations state.

Peterson insists that he is the appointive power in Dr. Gans' case and that therefore he has the power to dismiss Dr. Gans.

Dr. Gans was appointed director of the health and welfare by Walter Kellogg, then county executive, and the appointment was ratified by the board of supervisors in March, 1935.

In 1939, Peterson appointed Dr. John D. Fuller of Santa Cruz as health and welfare director upon recommendation of the San Mateo County Health Board, but the supervisors refused to ratify it. Dr. Gans remained in office as a holdover.

Last year Dr. Gans was blanketed in as a civil service employe.

War Council Gives Report

An organization chart of the civilian defense emergency medical service was prepared by Director Dr. Richard Ames, and copies were placed in the two control centers and the war council office, the annual report of the Redwood City War Council for 1943 disclosed. The chart indicated casualty stations, personnel of the registration units, nurses, physicians, first aid units and other information.

Dr. Ames served as a member of Control Center Staff 1, and directed the activities of the emergency medical service in all incident drills during 1943. Assisting him were Al Russell, first aid chairman, and Louis Dematteis, representing the emergency medical center at Control Center 2.

Russell and 15 other instructors conducted 16 first aid classes during the year, which were attended by civilian defense corps members. Fifteen trained first aid and ambulance teams were drilled at regular intervals by the first aid chairman during the year.

The first aid unit designed and built a portable field operating table under the chairman's direction.

$20,000 To Go In R.C. Drive

Faced with a lagging public response, workers in the 1944 Red Cross war fund drive have redoubled their collection efforts as the campaign moves into the last seven days.

Subscriptions in the Redwood City-Woodside and Atherton areas have yielded $28,347.62, Mrs. W. A. Baxter, drive chairman, announced today. Official returns have not been received from Menlo Park. Atherton has achieved its $10,000 share of the $20,000 Atherton-Menlo Park quota, Mrs. Baxter said.

Redwood City's quota is $38,500, and with the residential and business districts already intensively canvassed, the $28,347.62 collected is far short.

Although handicapped by shortage of workers, Mrs. Baxter declared the solicitors have made up in diligence what they have lacked in numbers. Many have repeated calls when they found no one at home on the first call.

"If the quota is not completed at the end of this month, the drive will have to go on in April," Mrs. Baxter warned. "With increasing wartime demands, it is urgent that our collections here reach the quota set for our chapter."

F. A. Steinkraus To Head R.C. VFW

James Lindsay Wilson Post 2310 Tuesday honored a World War II veteran by electing F. A. Steinkraus to the office of senior vice commander. Steinkraus had been serving temporarily as junior vice commander.

The post elected J. M. Foulks, World War I veteran, to the office of commander. He was nominated by Frank A. De Patta, retiring commander. Other officers: Walter Herman, junior vice commander; J. S. Farr, chaplain; Fred Staples, quartermaster; De Patta, judge advocate and Dr. Harper Peddicord, post surgeon. The officers will be installed Apr. 15 with the officers of the auxiliary.

Casaretto Faces Trial

Louis Casaretto proprietor of the Redwood Meat Co., 1634 Main St., was granted a jury trial in the $7500 treble damage suit brought against him by the Office of Price Administration charging him with selling meat over ceiling prices. His answer was filed by his attorney, M. Anderson Thomas.

The current suit was filed Jan. 28. On the same day Casaretto was fined $850 in federal court on charges of failing to register as a wholesale dealer and making meat sales over the established ceiling prices.

The OPA claims it will establish at Casaretto's trial overcharges in larger amounts than those involved in the criminal complaint, which included sales to Nipa Hut, 2550 El Camino Real, Wimpy's 2047 Broadway, and the Orpheum Cafe, Palo Alto.

Trial date on the civil case has not been set, but due to the crowded docket of the federal court, it probably will not be until some time in April.

Torchstone Returned To S.M. County

Melvin Torchstone, Negro charged with robbery and assault with a deadly weapon for allegedly beating up and robbing a 69-year-old service station operator in North Palo Alto Jan. 8, has been returned here from Klamath Falls, Ore., where he was apprehended, it was announced at the San Mateo County sheriff's office Monday.

Torchstone assertedly badly beat and cut Julius Tobkowitz, 69, 2043 Glen Way, North Palo Alto, who operated a service station on Bayshore Hwy. near his home, during a holdup attempt. Tobkowitz backed up to a corner of the station to a box where he had an old-fashioned six-shooter.

Torchstone assertedly rushed him, took the gun away from him and cut Tobkowitz with a knife on the right side of the neck, on the back of the neck and cut his left forearm to the bone.

Torchstone assertedly kept the gun and later sold it at a store in San Mateo.

Progressives Plan Canvas In San Carlos

SAN CARLOS—The Progressive Committee will swing into action next week with a house-to-house canvass which will bring its message of representative government into every home in San Carlos, it was announced at the "overflow" meeting last night at the Recreation Center.

Harvey Carlyon, committee-sponsored candidate for councilman, flung another challenge into the rapidly growing list of charges and counter-charges which has marked the campaign with his statement that two councilmen had taken credit for their so-called accomplishment in attracting a manufacturing corporation to San Carlos, while no mention was made of the other three. There should, he said, be unity of action in the city council.

Saying he had been accused of making an issue of the fire department thereby breaking a 20-year precedent, Ed Drotleff asserted he had not made it an issue, but that there was need for improvement, and it was needed now, not after the war.

"The incumbents are merely repeating what was said 10 years ago, or taking planks from the Progressive platform," said Patrick J. Kearns. "San Carlos will not get the representative government it desires unless votes are cast for all three candidates. If just one or two were elected, they would be lone wolves so far as any progress is concerned."

Tuesday's affair was the last public meeting of the group until Apr. 10, when, on the eve of the election they will stage an "old-fashioned" rally, which is being arranged by Harold (Dutch) Schaefer. The organization of the committee is now complete, according to Harry Borba, chairman.

Bruce M. Allen is chairman of the canvass committee, and he will give his instructions to a chairman and vice chairman for each of the nine districts into which the town has been divided.

Captain Perry Lauds U.S.O. Entertainers

Capt. Clarmond Perry, of the medical corps, who is awaiting a new assignment after his return from the Aleutians, paid tribute to entertainers sent there by the USO, in a talk before Exchange Club members Tuesday.

The speaker stressed the monotony of life in the lonely outposts, and said the entertainment provided by the USO contributed greatly to the morale of the service men, who had little to fill their leisure hours.

Captain Perry showed photographs of damage done at Dutch Harbor, and told of the bombing incident. Of the several thousand men stationed there, he said, there were only about 30 casualties as a result of the raid.

Captain Perry is a former Redwood City resident, and was living in Burlingame before entering the service.

Francis B. Tinney, Exchange Club vice president, presided. A. H. Davies was chairman.

COMMUTERS: 'Uncle Joe' Plans for Tie Contest

BY JOE CABOOSE

There has been a lot of noise in the south end of the county lately; so much in fact that the patients of the Belmont sanitariums are said to be complaining about it.

Most of the noise emanates from two principal sources—the political campaign in San Carlos and Ned Butler's loud-tie competition in Redwood City. Injunctions against each, to show cause why they should not be stopped, are reported in the offing.

We are not in politics, so we shall not presume to pass judgment on the burning issues in San Carlos. But when it comes to neckties, we're like the Irishman who said: "I'm neutral, but I know darn well who I'm neutral against!"

★ ★ ★

Anybody who tries to select our ties for us is an enemy agent, and that goes for anybody in or out of the family. So Nedsy boy, when you get to the stage of this contest where you don't care what happens to you, let Uncle Joe know. He will give you one of his gift ties and dare you to wear it. . . . providing you don't hold him responsible.

★ ★ ★

Ties have been causing feuds in the Caboose family for years. Never forget when our brother, Raymond, turned 15 and Pappy decided to take him to town and get him a pair of shoes. Figured he'd be getting married any day, and the boy ought to have shoes and learn to wear a tie. Pappy chased Raymond for two hours and finally cornered him between the wall and the bed and got a tie around his neck. Ray stood there for another hour, thinking he was tied to the bed.

Somebody suggested a "loud-tie contest" among Commuters. But there wouldn't be any contest so long as Wrex Cruse commutes. He's the stand-out boy for loud ties. Wrex comes from the Ozark country where the only thing more envied than a loud tie is a louder squeek in the shoes. Cruse is so fond of spectrum ties that he even inflicts them on his friends. One such instance almost ended a beautiful friendship. That's the tie we're going to give Ned Butler for his "Sports Clothes Opening and Neckwear Competition."

Seriously, we think a spring display of sports wear by the merchants of Redwood City is a swell idea, eminently fitting for this recreational and playground area, and we hope further that the project will be supported whole-heartedly by Commuters.

★ ★ ★

A number of the boys and girls who ride the 5:21 out of the city and get in here about 5:50 p.m. think it would be very nice if there were extra buses to meet that train. They complain of over-crowding on present buses, and are afraid of accidents. (Just a suggestion, Mr. Martin; if there is anything you can do about it!)

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Montell Bigler's busy little bees in the Junior AWVS netted a total of $70 for the Red Cross fund through the sale of war-stamp shamrocks on St. Patrick's Day. It shows what can be done with a little ingenuity and good will. Mrs. Bigler and her girls have made a real contribution to the war effort.

★ ★ ★

And if you want to know what becomes of this and other money contributed by you to the Red Cross, here are a few authentic local case histories, as related to us by Mrs. Polk Dodson Jr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Malone, of the home service department: A soldier, attached to a local radio unit, received word Sunday his father had died. Within four hours, through Red Cross assistance, he was put aboard a plane en route to his home in Massachusetts. . . . With two sons overseas, a mother here was taken critically ill. Boys informed through Red Cross channels and one returned on emergency furlough, other kept posted through welfare reports. . . . Soldier killed in accident here. Family in Iowa given all details and comfort through Red Cross. . . . Expectant mother, with baby 13 months old, left stranded here when husband shipped out. Through co-operation of Red Cross and S.P., family sent to maternal home in Illinois.

★ ★ ★

Incidentally, the local Red Cross quota has not yet been raised. You may have been overlooked in the solicitation. Don't wait to be asked. Turn your contribution in to Jack Werner, chairman of the Commuters Red Cross Committee, or to Red Cross headquarters direct, Broadway and Jefferson.

Julia tells How to make easy, mouth-watering desserts

SOMETIMES desserts are a problem this time of year, aren't they? Except for the familiar stand-bys, it's hard to find exciting fresh fruits—and yet, there are lots of easy-to-make, mouth-watering, month-of-March desserts! For example, (and the surprising thing about this one is that it makes its own sauce while it cooks):

BAKED FUDGE PUDDING

1 cup enriched flour
2 tsps. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
¾ cup sugar
5½ tbsps. cocoa
½ cup milk
2 tbsps. melted shortening
1 cup coarsely chopped walnut meats
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1¾ cups hot water

Sift and measure flour; sift with baking powder, salt, sugar and 1½ tbsps. of the cocoa. Add milk, shortening, and nut meats; mix well. Spread into well-greased cake pan (8 x 8 x 2). Combine remaining cocoa and the brown sugar; sprinkle over top. Pour hot water onto tablespoon, allowing to overflow onto mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.), 45 minutes, or until done. May serve warm or cold with pour cream or sweetened whipped cream. Serves 8.

Just to show you that the problem of making good desserts right at the beginning of spring is nothing new, here's an old solution that's still full of palate-tickling virtues:

MY MOTHER'S LEMON BREAD PUDDING

3 cups milk
3 cups bread, broken into small pieces
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
¼ tsp. nutmeg
1½ tsps. grated lemon rind
¼ tsp. lemon extract

Pour milk over bread; let stand until bread is well soaked, about 20 minutes. Add slightly beaten egg yolks, ⅔ cup of the sugar, nutmeg, and lemon rind. Beat thoroughly with rotary beater. Pour into 1½ quart well-greased baking dish. Bake in pan of hot water in slow oven (325° F.) about 1 hour and 20 minutes, or until slightly brown and pudding begins to leave sides of pan. About 15 minutes before pudding is done, make meringue by beating egg whites just until stiff. Add remaining ⅓ cup of sugar, 1 tbsp. at a time, beating until well blended after each addition. Continue beating until mixture holds a peak. Add flavoring. Pile on pudding and return to oven. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 15 minutes longer, or until meringue is brown. Chill; serve with spoonfuls of red jelly on meringue. Serves 6.

And of course there are ingenious ways to use packaged puddings and home-made cornstarch puddings, in making out-of-the-ordinary desserts. They can be glamorized, for instance, by:

1. Pouring over cupcakes, or left-over cakes—
2. Putting layers of graham crackers and pudding mixture in a well-buttered deep pan, and topping with jam, marmalade or preserves—
3. Using as pie or tart fillings in baked pie shells.
4. Using as cake frosting, and sprinkling with chopped nutmeats.

J-M Smokestack
By Jim Asbestos

Jobholders, Like Stockholders, Get Report

Lewis H. Brown, president of Johns-Manville, believes that jobholders are entitled to know just as much as stockholders about the operations and finances of a company—what happens to each dollar of income, etc.

He was a pioneer in the practice of making an annual report to employees, when he made his first such report in 1937 (J-M has about 14,000 jobholders and about 8,000 owners.)

IN THERE PITCHIN' IN

In 1943, J-M produced about as much dollar volume as in 1942, but did it in spite of a manpower shortage which left the company with 1,100 fewer people, showing what an outfit can do when everybody pitches in with real war spirit.

A Few Quick Figgers

J-M took in $107 1-3 million in 1943. Paid out $43 1-3 million in wages and salaries. Paid out $48 million for materials and other expenses. Paid $2 million in dividends. Left $2 2-3 million in the business to help assure postwar jobs and—

THEN THERE WERE TAXES

J-M taxes were $11 1-3 million—which is $817.64 per employee and $13.56 per share of common stock.

J-M POSTWAR PROSPECTS

Johns-Manville shouldn't lose much time in getting back to peacetime production. J-M won't have to shut down for a big job of reconversion since its war products are similar to its peacetime products. The biggest problem may be getting new machinery. Demands for materials for building new houses, keeping up old houses, and re-converting factories, should give J-M plenty to do from the minute the war job is done.

LITTLE JOURNEYS TO J-M PLANTS

This is such a big war that a large part of it has to be backstage. The J-M plant at Zelienople, Penn., has been doing a big war job right along. Since 1942, almost every insulating brick made at Zelienople has gone directly into the war effort—for refractory linings for furnaces in steel mills, for heaters in new high octane gasoline and synthetic rubber plants, and for melting and heating processes in the aluminum and magnesia industries—and for boilers in ships. Almost all the refractory cement made at Zelienople for laying this brick has similarly been used for war purposes. It's all darned important in anybody's global war.
